GROWTH MARKETING CASE STUDY #4

Multi-Channel Recruitment & Lead Attribution System (Kingdom Family Brokerage)

Prepared By: Tabbita Jael | Focus: Logistics Lead Gen, Tracking & Conversion Attribution

Logistics Lead Acquisition & Attribution Architecture

CLIENT CONTEXT & CORE CHALLENGE

Kingdom Family Brokerage needed a consistent pipeline of qualified driver partners and freight agents. The client was losing potential recruits due to fragmented outreach across multiple channels and zero tracking infrastructure. Leads were coming in sporadically, but there was no system to identify which marketing channels generated qualified applicants versus spam.

STRATEGIC EXECUTION & INFRASTRUCTURE SETUP

- Campaign Asset Creation: Designed multi-channel promotional flyers, digital ad copy, and recruitment graphics tailored for organic social distribution and freight community boards.
- Tracking & Attribution Setup: Implemented custom coupon codes, dedicated phone extension tags, and vanity landing page URLs tied to specific outreach channels to track conversion origins precisely.
- Automated Intake & Workflow: Created standardized candidate intake questionnaires and instant SMS/email auto-responders to qualify applicants in real time before routing to sales executives.

SUMMARY OUTCOME & TAKEAWAY

Establishing clear channel attribution and automated intake workflows transforms fragmented recruitment leads into an organized, high-converting growth pipeline.
